Gertrude Ederle, genuine "Miss America," lands in her home town, "Little Old New York," today. Friends and neighbors will give her a "block party."

New York's Mayor gives her a reception with a band, and police men parading.
The young lady brings honor and glory to her family and country.

GIRLS THAT try to be "skinny," notice that Gertrude, champion of the world, weighs over 160 pounds, is proud of it and can save her choice of 1,000 good husbands.

After she won her victory, conquering the Channel, this young girl went not to a cabaret, but straight to her old grandfather in the south of Germany.

The young girl please observe that reverence for the old does not interfere with winning a world's championship.

CHANNEL SWIMMER ARRIVES IN NEW YORK; MAYOR TO GREET HER

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Staff Editor
New York, Aug. 27.—The national heroine, mind's eye sweatshirt of every American, came home today.

Roughly speaking, more than a thousand passengers were aboard when the Beverly steamed into port. But, as far as the average citizen was concerned, the deck was deserted save for a single modest but muscular figure.

It was a figure absolutely alone, wearing a great brown coat. Gertrude Ederle came home today to the home that gave her the strength, the speed and the will to achieve a goal that no woman and only five men had reached in more than fifty years of effort.

But America gave no thought to its gift only of the result. America could do no less.

Five men in fifty years came through the test of wind and wave and tide and, as they gazed back over the turbulent course that had been conquered, they thought it was enough that they had swam the channel.

EXY TO RACE.
That consideration, with Trudie, seemed to be only incidental, mere means to an end. She was not there to float across the channel.

9 CHARRED BODIES RUN MINE TOLL TO 41

Clymer, Pa., Aug. 27 (A.P.)—Nine bodies of nine miners, all badly charred, were recovered from the Clymer mine at noon today, bringing the known death toll of the explosion to forty-one.

Rescuers continued the search for three miners, whom, it was believed, were buried under heavy falls of rock and earth.

The bodies were removed to the temporary morgue in a isolated, where they were placed beside the bodies of thirty-two fellow workers, whose lives were snuffed out by the terrific blast.

The condition of the nine bodies led rescuers to believe these men were snuffed out at the very center of the explosion, for the corpse were in such a condition that identification was impossible.

At the forty-one bodies recovered today.

Valentino's Story of His Life

By Rudolph Valentino

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE

Born and brought up in Italy, Valentino was graduated from the Royal Academy of Agriculture with the idea of becoming a landscape painter. Loss of funds forced him to abandon an ambition to stand the second codpiece. Tired of life in a little town, he ran away to Paris and Monte Carlo and returned home a prodigy. His family sent him to America.

How do we tell the story? Chapter 3—Broadway Nights. Remotely from Philadelphia, Valentino came to New York City. He was a handsome, well-dressed young man. He was a prodigy. He was a prodigy. He was a prodigy.

MRS HALL WON'T GO TO CELL

Somerville, N. J., Aug. 27 (N.B.)—No attempt will be made to force Mrs. Frances Stevens Hall to join her husband, Harry B. Carpenter and "William" Stevens, in a cell in the county jail, it was indicated today by Alexander Simpson, special prosecutor in the investigation of the murders of the Rev. Edward W. Hall and Mrs. Eleanor R. Miller.

Mrs. Stevens is on liberty on bail of $10,000, and will remain so until the Grand Jury meets on September 21. It was indicated, however, that she will be released on bail unless the Grand Jury orders otherwise.

If there is a trial, this depending entirely upon whether the Grand Jury orders otherwise.

CLOSE SHEIK'S CASKET UNTIL BROTHER COMES; MAY DELAY FUNERAL

New York, Aug. 27.—Rudolph Valentino's casket, lying in the "gold room" of Campbell's funeral church in Broadway, was sealed today and will not be reopened for anyone but the dead screen star's brother, Albert Guglielmi, who is due here on the liner Homeric on Tuesday.

Guglielmi has expressed the desire that Valentino's mother, St. George Ullman, postpone the funeral, which is scheduled to be held at St. Malachy's Catholic Church on Monday, until he arrives in New York.

Ullman, who has taken up with the health department a request that the body be sealed for ten days, has indicated today that the body would be buried in Hollywood. Practically all of Valentino's friends in the motion picture industry are hoping for that decision.

Ullman is in favor of it. He believes Guglielmi will appreciate the appropriation of burial in Hollywood because he had spent even months in the "movie capital" with his brother.

A complete list of the "senior" actresses in the town is published. It includes Will H. Hayes, Josephine, Schuyler, Adolphe, Baker, Josephine, Quirk, Douglas Fairbanks, Florence, Nicholas, Robert, Michael, Romano, Frank, Mollie, Sidney.

HUB FERRY HIT BY HUGE WAVE; GIRLS DRENCHED

Commuters on the Narragansett Ferryboat, Narragansett, leaving Boston at 11 o'clock today, were shaken and frightened and, in some cases, nearly drowned when a huge wave from the wake of the New York steamer City of Boston flooded the forward deck.

Screams of women mingled with the shouts of men as the cold water swashed about the deck, ruining many of the women to the hips and soaking one man from head to foot.

Deckhands were busy in some cases, but the majority women and girls were drenched when a wave from the wake of the New York steamer City of Boston flooded the forward deck.

Several witnesses on the ferryboat said they believed Mrs. Webb was drunk when the alleged pummeling occurred.

Grassie's machine stalled, according to testimony, and while he was attempting vainly to start it, Mrs. Webb belated her auto horn continuously. Becoming apparently annoyed at her machine, she leaped out of her machine, ran forward, landed Grassie violently and laid several punches on his person.

Mrs. Webb denied striking Grassie, but said she had attempted vainly to hit him after he had made a remark to her. She appealed the case.

MOTHERS AND BABIES MINGLE IN MOURNING THROGS THAT PAY LAST RESPECTS AT 'GREATEST LOVERS' BIER

WAITING THEIR CHANCE TO HONOR FALLEN SHEIK

FIRST U. S. FRIEND LAST TO SEE VALENTINO'S BODY

Kent, Mel St. Clair, Richard Rowland and Rex Ingram.

An invitation has also been sent to the Italian Ambassador in Washington to serve as an honorary pallbearer.

Two movements have been launched to build memorials to Valentino. Hollywood has such a plan and so has Chicago.

Five of Valentino's personal friends filed articles of incorporation in Chicago for a memorial according to advice.

The movement for the Hollywood memorial was launched here by Valentino's many friends, practically all of whom are identified with the motion picture industry and who do most of their work in California.

There was no disorder today near the funeral church, as there were last week of a rope line which extended for two blocks each way from the chapel.

FIFTY POLICE ON GUARD
Fifty policemen were on guard, but they were experienced no difficulty with the crowd and no further rioting was anticipated.

Fear of the sheik's close friends
The last to gaze upon his wasted features, they were 20. Menzies, the first friend Rudy made in America after his arrival in 1918. Michael Romano, an assistant waiter's attorney in Chicago, and George Ullman, Rudy's manager and companion, and Mrs. Ullman.

Leaving the funeral parlors Mr. Ullman met a party of theatrical folk who had come for a final look at what was left of the great performer of the films. He told them—Ben Lyons, Marilyn Miller, Mary Eaton, Edward Graham and Clifford Webb—it was too late.

HAWK BUTTONS.
Faddists are selling Valentino buttons, gaudy pictures of the sheik framed in shining brass with the words, "We mourn our loss" running all around.

All day long trucks glide up to the curb and turn and back up to the funeral church entrance, and men jump off and open the back doors and haul out great floor pillows and carry them in.

There was one from Beatrice Ramon, Rudy's second wife, who divorced him last December. She exhibited the wish that the body be placed in the funeral family at Woodlawn. St. George Ullman, Rudy's manager, said this could not be done.

FLORAL TRIBUTES.
After the funeral service, Monday morning, at St. Malachi's Church, the body, with the permission of the health department, will be returned to Campbell's funeral church until the brother says what shall be done with it.

Among the floral tributes which filled the great gold room at Campbell's and covered the sheik was an eight-foot wreath from United Artists with Rudy worked; 150 large red roses in vases from Gloria Swanson; a column nine feet tall and four in diameter, all of gladioli, from an admirer in London, Ind.; a simple bouquet without any card.

Among those who viewed the body were 17 women and 21 men, natives of Castellano, Italy, where Rudy was born. One of the women was Gaius J. Coyne and his wife, and Countess de Montini, formerly Lady Evelyn Baring, were others.

A little girl handed the doorman an envelope containing a poem "To Rudy."

LOVE REAWAKENED.
Jean Ackers, the first wife, and Rudy met three weeks ago for the first time in six years. That brief interview, friends say, awoke in the star a renewed love for his former wife and led to the hope, on his part, that they might be remarried.

Birthplace of Rudy to Be Memorial

Castellano, Italy, Aug. 27 (I.N.S.)—The Mayor of Castellano has taken charge of a campaign to raise funds to preserve the birthplace of Rudolph Valentino as a monument of the late film star.

He chose Hollywood for his final resting place.

London "Butterfly" Dies
Lamenting Valentino
London, Aug. 27 (I.N.S.)—The tragic lament of a self-confessed "butterfly" gave new impetus today to London's interest in the death of Rudolph Valentino.

The coarseness of the death of Peggy Scott, cabaret girl and film actress, who died from poisoning after she learned of the death of Valentino, whom she had claimed as a friend, brought forth the last letter written by the girl before she died. In this letter Peggy Scott wrote:

"Please look after Rudy's picture. He has helped me ever many times. I wish I was stable and plucky, but I am only a little butterfly, I must for the moment. There is no one to care for me and no help to live."

"With Rudy's death my last bit of courage has flown. In 1921 Rudy helped me carry on. He told me about his suffering, but perhaps it was only a question of time when the piece of elastic in me snapped."

The inquest was adjourned for a month for complete identification of Peggy Scott.

WILL TRANSFER BONDED LIQUOR IN CHICAGO
Chicago, Aug. 27 (I.N.S.)—Government agents are devising plans for a $150,000 parade of pre-war liquor through the clamorous streets of Chicago's "loop."

It was announced by the prohibition department that orders had been received for the transfer of the liquor from bonded construction warehouse depot 444 W. Madison to a warehouse in the "valley," notorious habitat of gangsters and "shakedown."

AMERICAN ARRESTED IN ENGLAND AFTER FIGHT
Cardiff, Eng., Aug. 27—A young American giving his name as William Mortimer, 38, was arrested here on a charge of attempting to pass a stolen stock certificate.

Mortimer is believed to have landed in England about five months ago and posed as a stockbroker's clerk. He is said to be wanted in New York for the alleged theft of three stock certificates of the Hotel Claremont.

LOVE PILL YOUTH ESCAPES TRIAL
Cleveland, Aug. 27—Despite the claim that Dorothy Elizabeth Kirk, 21-year-old stenographer, 24 hours before her death accused her alleged sweetheart, Emil "Frenchy" Balanescu, 31, of "making her ill," Emil will not be charged with murder.

"It would be impossible to prove the theory that the 'love pills' and poison said to have been given Miss Kirk by the college student caused the girl's death," Dr. J. H. Knapp, city chemist.

Balanescu, a student at Western Reserve College, and an amateur "love poison" expert, who, it is said, used his sweatshirt to experiment on and who carefully noted down the effects of his concoctions had upon her, denied to police that he ever admitted after much questioning that he had once dropped a vial of the pills in the girls' room while visiting her.

Police later found the empty vial in Miss Kirk's room.

MUSIC FOR BEGS FUNERAL BE POSTPONED

Paris, Aug. 27 (I.N.S.)—Albert Guglielmi, brother of the late Rudolph Valentino, is most anxious that the film star's funeral service be postponed until he can arrive in New York, according to a telegram Alberto sent to the International News Service bureau from the S. B. Hemery, on which he is speeding to New York.

"I appreciate the loving thoughts of the people of California who desire my brother buried there," said Guglielmi, "but I can't make any decision about my brother's burial place before arriving in New York, not knowing his latest wishes."

"My sister and I would appreciate the American kindness, if they would delay the funeral until my arrival."

Numerous collections of flowers from greenhouses and private gardens of the North Shore are on display.

The list of patrons and patronesses includes: The Hon. David L. Walsh, J. A. Lowell Hink, Mrs. A. Loyd Cochrane, William Arthur Durfee, Robert Emmott, William Burdett, Mrs. A. H. Swenden, P. MRS. HALL WONT GO TO CELL

Jury indicted the three defendants. It was regarded as highly probable today that fingerprint experts would play a large part in the prosecution case.

Simmons declared this morning that he would make a complete inquiry to determine why the authorities investigating the double murders mystery four years ago failed to make use of the waiting card with prints on it.

The startling revelation that the state would attempt to prosecute through this medium of evidence during the hall hearing before Supreme Court Justice Parker, when Simmons suddenly divulged the substance of what he termed "an important piece of evidence."

This new evidence, he said, was a beamed-up, engraved, cutting made found pressed against the foot of the murdered Dr. Hall, "the establish his identity." He declared that fingerprint prints on it had been identified, that they had been found to match those of one of the three defendants, and, inferentially, that it was "Willie" Stevens who placed the card at the foot of Dr. Hall's body.

Stevens' last surprising claim this charge, which plunged Stevens into a fit of nervous quivering, was the following one, when Simmons declared that Mrs. Hall "did not want her husband and his sweetheart murdered, but plans were misdirected, and she became involved in it—up to her neck."

Mrs. Hall, informed of Justice Parker's action in denying bail for her husband, and of Simmons' charges that the "murder" was committed before her eyes, showed no emotion. According to members of the family who answered telephones, calls to her home, she showed no curiosity as to the possible effect on her own present status of the bail refusal.

THUGS TIE UP AND ROB 30

Atlantic Highlands, N. J., Aug. 27 (A.P.)—Six or eight holdup men early this morning held up and robbed thirty employees of the Central Railroad of New Jersey at their homes and looted the men's clothing of $1,000 in cash and jewelry.

The victims were members of the crew of a Sandy Hook steamer and most of them had cashed their pay checks yesterday.

The holdup men, all armed, bound the men to their beds with wire. As they entered the last room of the bunkhouse they were met by a dog. Frightened by his barking they fled.

MADERIOS PLACED IN DEATH CELL

Wrentham Bank Killer Cool on Arrival at Prison; To Die in 10 Days

Celestino Madeiros, sentenced to die the week of September 5 for the murder of James Carpenter, 70-year-old Wrentham bank cashier, on November 1, 1924, was installed in the death house at State Prison today.

Shackled to Deputy Sheriff Martin Barrett, Madeiros was taken to the prison by Sheriff Samuel Capen of Norfolk County in a closed automobile, and received by Warden William Hendry.

The prisoner was assigned to Cell 1 nearest the chair, which since the occupancy of John J. Devereaux, condemned criminal slayer, has been painted and renovated. Madeiros was given prison clothing by Acting Deputy Warden Thomas B. Brewster, and a guard was placed on duty to attend him two or three times a night and day until the execution.

The prisoner was quiet, and made no requests of the warden, although entitled to anything in the way of food that he desires.

James F. Weeks and Alfred W. Bedford, who were indicted jointly with Madeiros, but who were given life imprisonment after pleading guilty to second degree murder, did not witness his arrival. They are confined in the prison shop.

A fourth man, Harry Goldberg, also indicted for the same crime, escaped and has never been brought to justice.

Devereaux, Edward J. Heinlein and John J. McLaughlin, condemned criminals who were given a life of execution pending Supreme Court action on exceptions, are occupying cells in the Cherry Hill section of the prison.

BULGARIA PROMISES TO MAINTAIN BALKAN PEACE
Sofia, Bulgaria, Aug. 27 (A.P.)—Bulgaria's reply to the collective note of the little entente, delivered today, is most conciliatory, expresses determination to safeguard peace with neighbors, and does not bring up the problem of minority races.

Hungary says she will not appeal to the League of Nations but will abide by the League's decision if that body is prepared to assume charge.

This was in answer to the note of Jugoslavia, Greece and Romania asking Bulgaria to suppress revolutionary organizations and prevent border raiding.

WELL, OLD SOL'S COMING BACK! ABOUT TIME, TOO
Following a week in which only a little more than 19 hours of sunshine were recorded, officially, the weather man today held out high hopes.

The weather man today held out high hopes. The low barometric pressure, which is a danger of rain and fog, will be displaced today, according to the forecast, by an active area of high pressure from the Southwest, carrying sunny weather.

Forecast for Boston and vicinity: Partly cloudy tonight, Saturday fair and much warmer. Sunday fair, moderate westerly winds.

DOOLITTLE TO 4 CITIES HUNT REGRESS ANDES LOST GIRL

Santiago, Chile, Aug. 27 (A.P.)—The American archer, Lieutenant James H. Doolittle, intends to hop off next Wednesday morning for a flight of about 400 miles over the Andes Mountains to Buenos Aires, capital of Argentina.

He has just completed a flight from Santiago La Paz, Bolivia, and return, about 3,400 miles, and again coming had to cross the Andes, which rise in the La Paz region to an altitude of about 15,000 feet.

Leut. Doolittle carries crutches on his plane, but is unable to walk more than half a mile, and in case he is forced down he will have to depend on someone finding him.

The aviator has had his ankles broken when he fell here recently. The bones were badly set and will require rebreaking and resetting when he returns to the United States.

MAY REMOVE "L" TRACKS FROM E. BOSTON STREET
The trustees of the Boston Elevated have full power to remove the street car tracks from Lexington street, East Boston, and their action is a subject to review by Governor Fuller. Acting Attorney General James H. Devlin ruled today.

REINHARDT, NOTED PLAY PRODUCER TO VISIT U. S.
New York, Aug. 27 (A.P.)—Max Reinhardt, one of the leading theatrical producers of Europe, will come to this country this fall or winter to discuss with Morris Gest, producer, the possible production in America of "Turandot," the Chinese fantasy which featured the Star festival in Austria.

Mr. Gest said Mr. Reinhardt also would supervise productions of "The Miracle" in Philadelphia, Kansas City, San Francisco and Los Angeles. Lady Diana Manners and Edith Patterson Sims, Codman of Boston, will again appear in "The Miracle," he declared.

BRIDE 21 DAYS AFTER HE BEGAN COURTING

School Committeeman and Chelsea Teacher Go to New York to Be Married

Just eighty-one days after he had met her, Edward M. Sullivan of Dorchester, youngest member of the Boston School Committee, led to the altar Miss Isabel C. Cassidy of No. 180 Williams street, Chelsea, a school teacher.

The couple eloped to New York and were wed in the Church of Our Lady of the Rosary. The ceremony took place Tuesday.

The family and relatives of the bride were greatly surprised at the elopement, but no one perhaps was more surprised than C. Harry McDuffin, Boston clubman, living at the Tennis and Racquet Club. Mr. McDuffin had expected to lead Miss Cassidy to the altar, for they had been engaged for some time.

Mr. Sullivan surprised everyone at the last city election when he polled the largest number of votes of any single candidate in the city, far outstripping the total of Mayor Nichols. He is an attorney and Secretary of the Chelsea School Committee.

The new Mrs. Sullivan is the daughter of one of the oldest families in Chelsea and considered one of the most beautiful girls in that city. When a teacher of music in the Carter Junior High School in Chelsea, she was referred to by Mrs. Florence Kirk, of the Chelsea School Board, as "the ideal school teacher."

THREAT TO SHOOT BOYS COSTS ALIEN $100 FINE
When a group of boys asked Alvin Kucinsky of No. 133 East Seventh street, South Boston, to give them a ball that had rolled into his yard, Kucinsky is alleged to have pointed an automatic pistol at them, and said: "Here, I'll give you this."

In South Boston court Judge William J. Day fined Kucinsky $100 for being an alien possessing firearms. On a charge of carrying a revolver he was found not guilty and a charge of assault with a loaded revolver was filed. Patrolman Joseph W. Kelly of City Point arrested him.

EX-CONGRESSMAN, IN JAIL, TO BE WIFE'S SECRETARY
Washington, Aug. 27 (U.S.)—Ex-Congressman John W. Lantry of Kentucky, now serving a sentence in the Federal prison at Atlanta, will be appointed secretary to Congresswoman Mrs. John W. Lantry, his wife, who was elected to succeed him. Lantry will soon be eligible for parole from prison. He was convicted of conspiracy in a liquor withdrawal case.

COVER LEGS AND ARMS, GIRLS, OR PAY $10 FINE
Geneva, Aug. 27 (U.S.)—Shocked by the scantiness of female attire the Communal Council of the village of Blatten has posted notices that women, whose bodies are not transparent, will be fined $10.

PROSECUTOR SUMS UP CASE FOR THE STATE
Senator Simpson made the plea of his brilliant career when he argued before Justice Parker to have the two defendants, Willie Stevens and Henry Carpenter, returned to jail without bail. He was victorious. Scene in courtroom shows principal figures at hearing in Somerville, N. L. (Photos by I.N.E.)

hikes us for our devotion to physical comfort. "Ah," says he, "see how you love comfort! Your bathrobe. You neglect the high spiritual plane. You are so physical!"

INDIA HAS three times the United States' population. In the United States, at the lowest estimate, are ten thousand times as many bathrobes as in India. If those bathrobes represent a low spiritual plane, make the proportion.

THE "INCONVENIENT BUNNET" from India will have no monopoly on reforming Americana. Tenko Nishida, the "Socrates of Japan," exponent of "The Side of Virtue," has reached Honolulu, coming here.

He informs you that "Labor is Prayer and Prayer is Labor," and doesn't mean eight-hour labor, either.

He and his wife worked their way across the Pacific, washing the ship decks. His religion is that of REPENTANCE—our religion is PROSPERITY. But, as the original Socrates might have said, only Providence knows which of us has the better religion.

At least, with property, you don't have to wash decks.

A T DUNDALK, Ireland, Mrs. J. J. McDonald said, "My Mary Moran eats the 'evil eye' on her child, doing it to a life of ill luck."

A third woman, doing the best she could, cut the fringe from the show of Mrs. Moran, of the "evil eye," and burned that fringe under the nose of the child. The evil spell should have disappeared with the smoke, but didn't.

THE JUDGE refused to take the case seriously and tried to make the ladies understand that the evil eye doesn't exist, and make from lady's shawl wouldn't cure it, anyhow. Millions in Ireland and other countries will say that the judge is foolish. We are still far from moderate intelligence as regards three-quarters of the eleven hundred million human beings on earth.

YOU KNOW about the little drops of water, little grains of sand, that make the mighty ocean and the pleasant land. In Wall Street it is little extra dividends, little high profit rates.

men that make the cheerfulness. Not long ago, even Standard Oil borrowed money at 7 per cent. Yesterday, in a few minutes, the Westinghouse Company sold thirty millions of 6 per cent. bonds, yielding 7 per cent. on certificates.

AND BROKERS, going home, learned that Texas Gulf Sulphur shares would pay $12 a year hereafter, and nearly two million new shares will be sold out. Wall Street prices might well paraphrase a high expression, "It balted but yet been shown what we shall be."

GEORGE COHEN, energetic Chicago gang leader, fell among detectives in New York City after stealing $75,000 in diamonds from Abraham W. Padig. "When you come out of Sing Sing prison, Cohen, you will be sixty-seven years old," the judge told him, imposing a forty-year sentence.

If hold-up men could be made to BELIEVE that "40 years in prison" really MEANS 40 years in prison, the crime wave might subside.

HUNT CAR THIEF SHOT IN FLIGHT

Back Bay police today are looking for a man believed to have been wounded when Mounted Officer William For first fire shot at two fleeing automobile thieves after he frustrated an attempt to steal a Buick sedan in front of No. 34 West Street, Back Bay.

The police also are detaining as a suspect a man giving his name as Daniel J. Smith, 24 years old, 1717 Seventh street, South Boston, who was arrested in the vicinity shortly after the attempt. Smith denies he knows anything about the attempt to steal a car, and says he was merely walking along the street when taken into custody.

Max White Cohen, candidate for the Republican nomination for Congress in the 10th district, addressed a gathering of the Brotherhood of Painters, Decorators and Paper Hangers of America at Essex Hall, Cambridge. The members present were from Somerville, Malden and Everett. Mr. Cohen's candidacy was endorsed.

Spokane, Wash., Aug. 27 (A.P.)—Life bored Paul Moore, 29, so he turned two-gun man in a pool hall just to see how the damn or so. Moore would look up and point the wall. He did not try to shoot them, but did after being shot over. The police got him, however. "He runs" is his philosophy of life.

Noakhali, Bengal, India, Aug. 27 (A.P.)—Ninety-four passengers on a Megna River ferryboat are believed to have been drowned when the craft capsized in mid-river and broke in two.

One hundred passengers were on board and only six are known to have been saved. Many of them were carried away by the swiftly rushing water.

Announcing ATLANTIC Ethyl Gasoline

ANSWERING the demand for a fuel that is especially adapted to prevent the knock in a carboned engine or in engines that perform best on an anti-knock fuel, we announce Atlantic Ethyl Gasoline. It is the splendid new Atlantic Gasoline, everywhere hailed as the finest all-round gasoline on the market, with the addition of Ethyl Brand of Anti-knock Compound—the element developed by General Motors Research Laboratories.

Atlantic Ethyl Gasoline is especially recommended for use—

In heavily carboned motors, and in engines which accumulate carbon quickly.

In motors which have a pronounced tendency to knock.

In motors which, through long usage, are losing power.

In motors burdened with excessive loads.

In motors operating in hilly country and through heavy traffic.

And for the sport-loving motorist who likes the thrill of super-power at his instant command.

Under these conditions Atlantic Ethyl Gasoline is well worth the extra cost of three cents a gallon. Drive up to the pump with the Atlantic Ethyl Gasoline sign and give this new fuel a trial. You will find it on sale, together with regular Atlantic Gasoline, at Atlantic service stations and at Atlantic dealers.

BETTY ALDEN'S COMMENT ON SOCIETY Bostonians Prominent on Courts and in Gallery at Newport Tennis

NEWPORT, R. I., AUG. 27.—Mixed tennis doubles, with Boston stars of the net scheduled for a Casino appearance, is the tennis far immediately to be served up. Topping the list appear the names of Miss Eleanor Sears and William Tilden, 2nd.

THE PRETTY Miss Edith Winslow, daughter of the Cassen Hotel, is paired with Philip Sears; Mrs. Frederick Curran, Jr., and George K. Churchill make another pair, and still another includes Miss Isabelle Munroe and James Davies.

TALL AND SLENDER Mrs. Edith Woodward has for tennis partner Mauran Houle of Boston, and Alfred Dabney has the pretty Ms. Mitchell. This is Boston's first served in the social vortex no swirling merrily in the social pool.

MISS ISABELLA MUMFORD, in white frock richly printed in miniature roses, with small white hat, made a Bellevue appearance, doing a round of the shops before going in for the Tilden-Casson net contest.

AN ARDENT FOLLOWER of tennis, moving up and down the world as tennis calls, Miss Mumford has distinguished herself on many courts. Newport knows her of it as it does the versatile Miss Sears.

RUNNING TRUE to form, Miss Sears at the Casino was as metaculously aware from the crown of her soft gray felt to the soles of her black-velvet shoes, that a rain coat is most necessary adjunct to a Newport morning swing across her shoulders lay-out—ahem, the popular line was as usual the centre of an ever changing group.

MRS. GORFEST DANIELSON of Commonwealth avenue and Mayday left to the avenue picture her individual presence. In black with touches of white, Mrs. Danielson was the personification of chic. One of the Boston atmosphere-influenced was Mrs. F. J. Thompson, who is dining tonight Friday evening; and her daughter, Miss Mary Ames; the Boardman family, the Harry Hill Thompsons and Mr. and Mrs. Horace Bixby.

MRS. THAYER, wearing her usual black set off with white, noted to be tennis in company with her daughter, Miss Ruth Thayer, Miss Mabel Bayard Thayer and Nathaniel Thayer, son of the house, made still another Thayer unit in the brilliant company.

SARTORIALLY SPEAKING, the feminine portion of Newport moved out in comfortable and becoming Autumn raincoat, giving a foretaste of what the smart women will wear when leaves are turning a candy red and there's a nip in the air.

MISS NATALIE MERRILL, finding volle and a wide shady hat fit fitted for a Casino morning, alternating rain and shine, dashed home to rearrange later in paper coat and snug velvet hat, of the turban variety, spilt of Rosalind green.

THE RICH GRAY FUR on Mrs. L. Lohrop Ames' golden brown wrap, the fox scarf thrown over Mrs. Jerome Sampson Bonaparte's shoulders; the gray velours suit and blue hat worn by petite and blonde Miss Marian Wilson, are each one runners of the mode of the Autumn.

DUDLEY PLACE, the Frederic C. Cannon Church, Jr., establishment in Middletown, is a comfortable southern colonial mansion surrounded by velvet lawns and mature trees of hoary years. The

KEMAL HANGS 4 MORE; TOTAL 17

London, Aug. 27.—Mustapha Kemal today rules unopposed in Turkey.

The four chief opponents of Kemal were hanged today, according to dispatches to the Daily News from Constantinople. The four were: David Bey, former finance minister; Naim Bey, former minister of education; Halil Bey, former deputy; and Nali Bey, former secretary of the national party.

Their deaths increased the total number of executives in the plot against Kemal at 17. These four men were the last remnants of the Union of Progress, the organization which in 1918 freed Turkey from despotism under the sultan. Now, these men who fought for the freedom of Turkey have gone to their death, charged with a conspiracy to revolt against the Republic.

Once these men were national heroes in Turkey and Mustapha Kemal was their subordinate. They made their first mistake when they led Turkey into the World War on the side of the Central Powers, and since that time their power has declined, and with their decline there has come the ascendancy of Mustapha Kemal, who today stands a virtual dictator in Turkey.

George Hits the Mark

Edinburgh, Aug. 27. (G.N.S.)—King George has maintained his reputation as being one of Britain's finest game shots. Today the King bagged 112 grouse during one drive.

Hunger drove Edward Mulcahy, 15, shown here, and two other Gardner boys back home after they had fired this back-to-nature stuff. They spent three days in the woods.

DAVIS HERE FOR DEVENS REVIEW

Secretary of War Dwight F. Davis and Brig. Gen. Willis B. Gilmore, assistant chief of the Army Air Service, arrived in Boston today.

Secretary Davis came to review the troops at Camp Devens, and General Gilmore for a conference at the State House concerning the Boston Airport.

Major General Preston Brown, commanding the First Corps Area, greeted the Secretary and General Gilmore at the Camp Devens Hotel. Secretary Davis said his only official duties here would consist of the inspection and review and a visit to his mother, who is in Boston.

General Gilmore was met by Major Ira Longnecker, air chief in New England, and escorted him to the State House for a conference with officials of the Department of Public Works.

General Gilmore seeks an extension of the lease the government holds from the State on the East Boston Airport, of fifteen years, the present lease expiring in 1929.

According to Major Longnecker the extension will be asked so commercial air lines and the air mail service may be given a chance to develop in this section along with the Army air force. He said the possibility will also be discussed of establishing an airport at Camp Devens on the site of the old regiment station.

SEEKS TO RESTRAIN UNION OFFICIALS

The Morris B. Anderson Company, clothing manufacturers with a plant on Harrison avenue, in a petition filed in the Supreme Judicial Court seeks to have officials and members of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America held in contempt of court for the alleged violation of an injunction issued in 1924 restraining the members of the union from interfering with the contracts when the company had with its employees.

BRITAIN AND FRANCE IN PARLEY ON TANGIER

Paris, Aug. 27. (A.P.)—It is likely that France and Great Britain will come to an agreement between themselves before replying to the recent British memorandum asking for the exclusive control of the International District of Tangier by Spain.

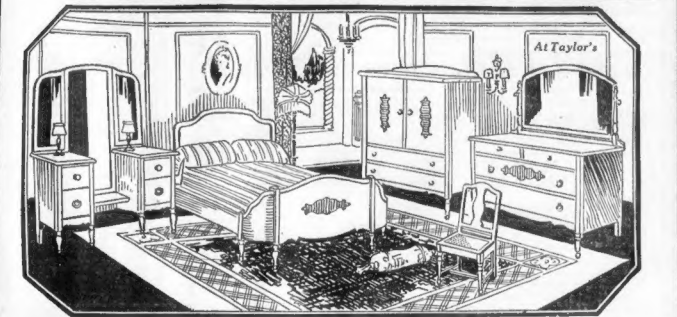

FLIERS SHED PARACHUTES AS BATTIS HAD NONE

Washington, Aug. 27. (A.P.)—Rather than have an advantage over their injured charges, the three army aviators, who brought Lieutenant Cyrus K. Batts here from Bellefonte, Pa., refused to wear parachutes, as required by army regulations.

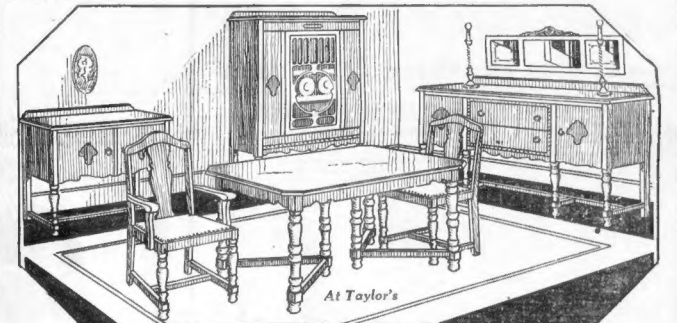

MAD SLAYER KILLED BY WAR VET IN R. R. STATION

Chicago, Aug. 27. (U.P.)—Two men are dead, two dying, and another seriously wounded today, as the result of a madman's charge through the "Loop" Central Station here. Joe Mazz, the demented man, was shot to death by Charles Darnell, a World War veteran after Mazz had killed Louis Klumme, a restaurant waiter and wounded the other three with a shotgun.

FILIPINOS ACCUSE U. S. ARMY MEN ON ISLANDS

Zamboanga, Philippine Islands, Aug. 23.—A tense situation was created here today when Filipino officials accused United States Army of having stationed in Zamboanga with motives for the purpose of giving a wrong impression to Colonel Corbin A. Thompson, special envoy of President Coolidge.

MALE DECIDES HE'LL FIND SOME WORK

down against the case, expounding with gleam from then on I pressed until I could get a man with some distinction—even to originating some steps of my own.

NEEDED TO EARN

Three months had passed since my arrival in America. I had gained a working knowledge of English but I had not obtained work. A great deal of my money had been spent foolishly with my wealthier friends at cafes and theatres and I realized that I must start earning a livelihood at once.

My brother had sent me a letter of introduction to the commissioner of immigration, which I decided to use in an effort to make some business connections. The commissioner proved to be a splendid fellow, very courteous.

He showed him my diploma from the Italian Academy of Agriculture. I arranged for me to meet Cornelius Jones, who had just built some country places at Jericho and wanted the grounds laid out in Italian gardens.

Finding that I had knowledge of landscaping, Mr. Jones offered me the position of superintendent of the estate, provided my salary with necessary equipment and assigned me to the little apartment over a garage which had just been completed.

Although I had a serious manner and the appearance of a stranger, I was only 18 years old and very much a kid. As there was little to do on the estate until the evening, I cleared away, I used to spend my time touring around the island with Mr. Bill's Shetland pony.

There, one day, a current of working on the place happened to leave the motorcycle exposed to my interested gaze. I immediately decided to substitute it for the pony, and away I went at a gallop, speedily thinking I would return it before the workman looked for it in the evening.

Arriving at the top of a hill where I stopped to have a cigarette, I noticed just below several young girls who seemed inclined to "firt." Stated by their attention, I decided to give them a little thrill, so I threw myself on the motorcycle, my stomach on the seat and my arms stretched out horizontally to the bars. In this precarious position I lost at breakneck speed to the hill—straight into a telephone pole.

BREAKS MACHINE

The collision only startled me, but the machine arrested a twisted find. I tried to fix it up, but I could not. I knew I had not been very successful when I heard the workman loudly swearing at me as he came to get it in the evening. Dumping all my courage and my best manner I stepped up to him.

"I am very sorry," I said. "I took the extreme liberty of using your motorcycle fast to see how it worked. I am crazy about motorcycles. Indeed, I am a little bit of a mania with me. As soon as I see one I am no longer myself. Yours quite overruled me. While in this hypnotized state I was unfortunately enough to have an accident. I am truly sorry. If you will send me a bill I will pay the 'accident' gladly."

My little speech seemed to soothe him. I paid the bill. Nevertheless, a few days later Mr. Bill informed me that he had changed his mind about the Italian gardens. Mr. Bill had decided in favor of a golf course, he said. Although I felt that the real reason for this courteous dismissal was my unreasonable attitude, I bowed myself quickly out with expressions of gratitude for my proprietor's kindness.

By this time I had become very tired of the country, for all the Shetland ponies and motorcycles, so I came back to town where in one night I spent all I had earned in about April my mind, the Commissioner, came to my rescue, this time with a letter which contained me a position on the estate of a millionaire in New Jersey.

I supposed that I had been engaged as a director of the domain. I expected to dine with the family as a sort of honorary guest. The first morning after my arrival, however, I was rudely awakened by the common gardener who gave me a pair of overalls, conducted me to the greenhouse and set me to picking buggy rose leaves.

I regretted my conduct on Mr. Bill's estate. Deep in shame, I went to his office and was received by him. "I came to apologize to you," I said. "I know, Mr. Bill. But you were courteous enough to say you had changed your plans when you dismissed me, but I knew the real reason was that I was very foolish. Instead of attending to my work I was fooling around with other people's motorcycle. I would appreciate it if you could give me another chance."

IN CENTRAL PARK

He proved to be a most benevolent. He gave me a letter to Mr. Ward, the park commissioner, through whom I was engaged as an apprentice landscape gardener in Central Park, until such time as I was able to pass the examination and take a regular position on the park staff. In order that I might have enough to live on during the apprenticeship, Mr. Bill gave me an allowance.

One again I found myself picking buggy rose leaves. But this time with a different spirit. I worked hard for a month, then went to the civil service bureau to take my test and register for a position.

"Are you an American citizen?" was the first question asked. "No, I am an Italian," I said, sending an electric shudder.

"Sorry, but only American citizens are qualified for a city job."

"How long will it take to become a citizen?" I asked eagerly.

"Five years."

Five years! Five years! Why that was a century. It seemed as though there was a conspiracy of fate against me. As soon as I recovered from the sickening disappointment I went straight to Mr. Bill and said that I could not accept his allowance any longer. There was to be none for me. I was not an American citizen and wouldn't be for five years. He sympathized with me, and he was still willing to help me, but I was too proud to impose upon his kindness further. I thanked

German Tribute To Unknown Hero Goes in Garbage

Paris, Aug. 23.—The policeman on duty at the Arch of Triumph saw four women and a man, evidently foreigners, approach and lay a bouquet of red flowers on the unknown soldier's tomb.

On their departure the policeman examined the bouquet. On it was a card, written in French and in German, saying, "To the unknown soldier from a German youth."

The policeman immediately reported the incident to the district police commissary, who ordered the flowers removed and thrown into a garbage can.

NEW GREEK MINISTRY PLEDGED TO PEACE

Athens, Aug. 23.—The chiefs of all the political parties in Greece have announced their willingness to support the new ministry formed by General Condylis, which is described as a "business cabinet."

General Condylis recently headed the coup that overthrew the Pangalos administration.

A statement by the new government announced intention to restrict army and navy officers to their professional duties and prevent them from meddling in politics and promises to maintain friendly relations with all neighboring States.

A dead man until morning, when I pulled over and found myself on the floor.

That morning I went to a fellow who was playing the piano in the orchestra at Maxine's. He came from an excellent family in Terni, Italy, and has made his home here in New York.

"Can you help me to get work?" I asked.

BAY STATE PAIR $2,101,000 IN VISIT COOLIDGE B. & M. GAIN

The Boston and Maine Railroad today reported a net income, for July of $175,499, which compares with $217,774 in July of last year, a gain of $42,275.

Operating revenues were about the same in each case, but operating expenses were lower this year, in spite of large expenditures for road improvements.

Net income for the seven months to July 31 was reported as $2,628,487, as compared with $1,527,541 for the first seven months of 1921, an increase of $2,101,000. This increase is also largely a reflection of decreasing operating expenses.

BERWICK

"BERWICK CAKE MAKES HOME SWEET HOME"

Berwickians By Neal O'Hara

The fellow who said something to the effect that the guys who write the events of a nation rule its destinies said a pair of men's destinies mouthful.

The jingle boys of tin pan alley sure do run a National Cause and Effect Bureau. They furnish the cause and old Gen. Public the effect.

Some ballad scribbles tossed off "Oh, How I Miss You Tonight!" Chas. Pond disappeared shortly after.

Another melody mixer turned out "In the Middle of the Night" . . . 14 filling stations were visited by cash and carry yuggs the next evening.

Yep, the pen is mightier than the Ford. After Irving Newburg Berlin wrote "At Peace With the World," 3 World Court Senators were defeated and Post-Telegraph stock wavered slightly.

Best of all, right after nasal levers warbled, "I Miss My Swiss," Berwick came along and filled the longing with the new Swiss Chocolate Cream Cake. Can you beat it?

Mr. O'Hara's Berwickians are presented solely for the purpose of entertaining. No sense of humor as Berwick Cake satisfies your sense of taste!

Clear Horn for Clear Tones

Because a surprising amount of dust drifts into the necks of horn-type loud speakers, it is a good plan to use a special type of horn while and to blow out any accumulation that is visible.

The Ideal Aerial

The most suitable aerial for the average set is one from 15 to 18 feet long, with a diameter of 1/2 inch or more feet high. In cities where the installation is surrounded by a forest of tall buildings, a shorter aerial may be desirable. In the country, far away from interfering stations and other causes of disturbance, a longer aerial may be used, and the distance available for greater volume and distance obtainable.

Tris Very Anxious to Finish In Runner-Up Position in Race

By NICK FLETLEY

TWO doubleheaders with the Cleveland Indians will close the final Red Sox stand of the season against the White Sox.

Woe! The Sox again this season in part of the regular schedule, while the dual act to tomorrow will be a opportunity to meet the Indians in a doubleheader on Thursday.

The stand, which started out as bright, has been dimmed by disaster and defeat. The Sox have been grabbing four games out of five from the St. Louis Browns. Then they lost two out of three to the Chicago White Sox.

That wasn't bad, but the rambling Sox are in a bit of a predicament. They have been in a bit of a predicament. They have been in a bit of a predicament. They have been in a bit of a predicament.

To date the Sox have won five games and lost six against the White Sox. They can win, make their last position more secure by winning the last of the season.

Polishing off the Indians just now isn't any sort of a pleasant occupation. The Sox have been in a bit of a predicament. They have been in a bit of a predicament. They have been in a bit of a predicament.

HEARN TO FACE BRUINS IN SECOND GAME

Chicago, Ill., Aug. 27.—Manager Dave Harpner was by no means disappointed because the Braves failed to down the Cubs and halt the winning streak of the locals in the first game of the series.

The fall series, which his men had to them to repeat today the performance of Tuesday in St. Louis, when the Cubs were dropped and the Braves won.

All Hearn wants to do now is travel around the league and do as much as he can for the first time in his career as a Dodger.

It is a long way from the first game of the series to the first game of the season. The first game of the season is the first game of the season.

The first game of the season is the first game of the season. The first game of the season is the first game of the season.

HUB 'TWIN' NINES IN CENTRE OF STAGE TONIGHT

The only two Boston teams in the Greater Boston Twilight League clash tonight in a league game on the John Doherty playground.

Paula Turner, Dorchester, starting at 8 o'clock. There also is scheduled a double for Waltham and a third game will be played at Somerville.

The Boston attraction will find the ball courtiers of South Boston playing the Live roller men, one of the major acts in the harbor, the heart of the baseball game in the city.

South Boston and Dorchester are battling for fourth place. Waltham will arrive out for Waltham to play the Waltham City nine in the 8:30 starter on Aug. 1. Should they have a tumble out of Waltham, South Boston and Dorchester will get a big kick out of the league tussle.

The two Waltham girls, Tom and Dick, will journey to Somerville with their five coaches and a lot.

Helen Wills Regains Popularity Crest in Big Contest

THE Hearst Popularity Contest pendulum swings again. We cannot say too much for the quantity of competition that this race has developed.

During the last four days the lead has been held in succession by Helen Wills, Babe Ruth, Gertrude Ederle, and now again by Helen.

Such a head-to-head arrangement militates for the most exciting popularity race on record. These three stars are travelling at such a clip and their standing shifts so rapidly, that only an arch oracle could predict the outcome.

At the beginning no such neck-and-neck business was anticipated. The contestants started off with a definite alignment which grew to be almost static. Not only in the national contest but in the local contest.

On the first, and it has become really a very wide.

Helen Wills resumes her lead with a total of 27,441 points. Babe Ruth averages in behind her with 17,855, and Gertrude Ederle drops over night from first to third place, with an average of 15,000 points. Fred Grando remains their closest competitor with 12,447.

There is one thing to be remembered, however, and that is the light vote which has been manifest in New England during the past week. The public will not keep Helen Wills to the fore with remarkable regularity since the contest began, can hardly afford to doubt her when she stands an excellent chance of coming through. No more can the friends of the other candidates hope, especially when throughout the country such interest is being shown.

The order of the first six in New England has not changed since the last announcement. They are Helen Wills, Babe Ruth, Baby Jones, May Elwell, Jack Dempsey and Gloria Coletti.

If you want somebody to win this contest—cast your vote now. Following is standing of national leaders:

1st. Babe Ruth 27,441
2nd. Helen Wills 27,441
3rd. Gertrude Ederle 17,855

Bill Johnston Fades From Pro Picture

Newport, R. I., Aug. 27 (A.P.)—William M. Johnston of California today disclosed knowledge of C. O. Pyle's reported engagement of a Davis Cup player to appear with Miss Suzanne Lenglen in her forthcoming tennis tour of America. Johnston said he had not personally been approached by the promoter, but that he could not answer for the other members of the American team.

"It is all news to me," said Johnston, who had recovered from a week of trip sickness in his box room in the Lorraine Hotel. "I do not know Pyle and never have had any dealings with him. I do not know a Pyle and never have had any dealings with him."

Asked whether he might consider turning professional, Johnston thoughtfully admitted that "Pyle claims to be a professional, I have a hundred thousand and a lot of money for a few tennis games."

Boxing Notes

The New York Times reports that the fight between the two champions of the world, who took place at the Madison Square Garden, was a great success. The fight was a great success and the crowd was very large. The fight was a great success and the crowd was very large.

Lillian Cannon Decides to Make Another Attempt at Channel

Douglas, France, Aug. 27 (A.P.)—Miss Lillian Cannon of Baltimore today decided to make another attempt to swim the English Channel. She announced that she would enter the water here at 11 o'clock tonight, if the wind and tide are favorable. Helms, the giant Egyptian, planned also to start on his seventh essay at the Channel crossing.

Officials to Welcome Trudie on Arrival

Sample Ends of Worsted

From America's Finest Mills
Made in My Best Shops
Fine Ready Made

SUITS $25

A year ago I bought these ends from the mill and they refused to let me use their name. This year one of the conditions of the sale was no name to be mentioned in advertising, because these fabrics are put into suits that are sold for twice or three times what I am selling them for, and to avoid conflicting with high-priced clothes I purposefully left out the name of the mill.

As fine a range of suitings for style, in dark 14 oz. absolutely all wool double and twisted worsteds as any suit selling for $50 to $75 ready to wear. These goods can be seen made up in my window. I have a complete range of styles.

They are perfect goods sampled out for the purpose of sale to high-priced clothes. Some styles were never made except the sample ends. Prices run from 20 to 30 yards, giving you a complete variety of sizes, and a wonderful range of colorings. If you are 32 breast, I seek your business. If you run 56 breast I seek your business without extra cost for extra size.

Worsted Suits Ready to Wear $25.00

Bring in your coat and vest and I will match them to a pair of pants as low as $5.00.

I have a number of last year's Overcoats, Ulsters and Topcoats that I will sell as low as.....

"the gods you've been, Flot!"
"Of course you have, dear," she don't cry—we're all foolish things." Her big sister is the one who's been crying.
"You'll excuse me, I'll drop the phone and call Billy back. He's been crying, too, though he doesn't know it's you so are you, Betty?"
The moon through the wine cups is a porthole view.
"I'm not an instant
you had really fallen for Jameson," Betty was saying to her sister. "I was on me," commented Billy and, "but she might have been a little more than "Because," finished Betty pleasantly. "We understand each other. I'm not a fool, and really come between us could be a disaster."
There was silence then for
The moon, old and indignant with a maid, looked Clouds raved smoothly by, couple pledged their love.

A MAN WITH MILLIONS OF FRIENDS

Study These Pictures of the Late Rudolph Valentino.
The Public Grief at His Death is Easily Understood.

THE SOLDIER

BULL FIGHTER

AS HIMSELF, THINKING

AS MONSIEUR BEAUCAIRE

(THE BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN AND ITS THOUSANDS OF READERS ENDORSE EARNESTLY THE SUGGESTION THAT RUDOLPH VALENTINO SHOULD BE BURIED IN CALIFORNIA, IN LOS ANGELES, WHERE HIS SUCCESS WAS MADE AND HIS AFFECTIONS WERE.)

The death of Rudolph Valentino and the public grief that accompanies his death prove, first, the place that a man can make for himself in the hearts of millions of human beings, and, second, the extraordinary power and pre-eminence of the moving picture as a force in modern life.

Millions followed eagerly the news of Valentino's illness. Women shed tears at the newsstands as they bought copies of this newspaper telling of the actor's death.

The news of his illness, before death came, was sent broadcast over the radio, and millions undoubtedly responded to the request that they should hope and pray for Valentino's recovery.

But disease was too powerful, hopes and prayers were in vain, and the young man of great power is gone, too early, from a world that gave him so much affection and so warm a welcome.

Thousands crowded to the mortuary chapel where Valentino's body lay in state. The crush was so great that unintentionally, and, to their regret, the throng of admirers broke the plate glass windows of the building. One hundred were injured, chiefly women, and two, at least, were taken to the hospital. Eagerness to take one last look at the dead face of one known to so many millions on the screen was overwhelming.

Pictures here explain the power that made Valentino, only thirty-one when he died, a man interesting literally to SCORES OF MILLIONS all over the earth.

We have selected four pictures that show this young Italian's extraordinary versatility, portraying different types of adventurous, conquering youth.

As the young man of fashion in "Monsieur Beaucaire," as a bull fighter, facing death with a straight eye, as a soldier of fortune, and as HIMSELF thinking. He was a young man well made, earnest, CONCENTRATED. Rudolph Valentino was always overmasteringly powerful.

Now he is gone; yet he remains, living on the screen. And tens of millions will still see him in his latest picture, and in the other pictures that raised him from a man working hard for $5 a day to a young man working even harder and earning $200,000 for each picture.

The work that he did will add wealth to those that possess the right in it, and those to whom he may have left the fortune that feebly represents his career and his life.

Some have expressed amazement at the intense interest in Valentino in his illness, his death, and the widespread grief caused by the announcement of that death.

The answer is that millions KNEW HIM, ADMIRE HIM AND LIKED HIM.

The human race, made up of emotions, seeks and rewards those that can give EXPRESSION TO THE EMOTIONS.

The poet in his way, the prose writer in another, the painter and the musician in other ways, express the emotions of the human heart.

But the moving picture SHOWS LIFE MOVING BEFORE THE EYES OF HUNDREDS OF MILLIONS—life as it really is.

The world loves courage, loves and admires youth and adventure. The world, above all, is HUNGRY FOR SENTIMENT AND ROMANCE.

Rudolph Valentino supplied admirably those things that the world craves and admires—youth, courage, manly beauty. It rewarded him in life and mourns him in death.

To their disgrace it must be said that certain newspapers, just before this brilliant young man's death, sought to belittle him and his character. It was even suggested that his illness was a "ruse to obtain advertising"—as though a man at the top of his profession would enter a hospital and feign illness to interest the public.

Valentino's death, the public grief and intense public interest answer these detractors. The mud that they threw comes back and strikes them in the face. It cannot hurt the man at whom that mud was thrown or hurt his memory.

Your Much Advised Uncle

He's Really Laid out

Irving Fisher, professor of economics at Yale, shows that Uncle Sam is not the heartless money grabber that Europe thinks him. The payment of the French and Italian debts, when figured down with interest, represents forty-two per cent. of the principal for France and twenty-one per cent. for Italy.

In one case Uncle Sam described as a "merciless Shylock" forgives SEVENTY-NINE per cent. of his debt, and in the other fifty-eight per cent.

The Strange Chinese

Confirmation of Bret Harte's estimate of the Oriental is supplied in the news that eighteen millionaire bankers were recently executed.

Not for fomenting revolutions, treason, arson or murder were these Chinese beheaded. They were executed for what is considered in the Dragon Empire of equal seriousness—speculating in currency.

If the land of the fleur de lis adopted this quaint Chinese custom, what would be its effect on the franc?

One Means to Virtue

Many a truth is caped in a witicism. Dr. Cattell, field director of the Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce, evoked a laugh when he told an audience of bankers:

"A whole lot of people who revile our youth forget that it is easy to be good when you are too old to be bad."

You should allow for the impulses of warm emotions.

Laying for Sam

"It is believed at Geneva," wires an American observer, "that a majority of the great powers unquestionably would like to see the United States in the World Court."

No doubt; no doubt.

And what they would proceed to do to us!

STONE LIZARD THEY CALL NEW YORK

By DR. FRANK CRANE

A POPULAR writer once described New York City as a great stone lizard.

He said its head, Manhattan, had that shape as it lay with its head at the Battery and its tail extending to Spuyten Duyl.

A few facts about this city—which have been gathered from various statistics of the past year—will show the magnitude of its activities and give an inkling as to the reason for its sobriquet of "the wonder city of the world."

If the lampposts were stretched out in a straight line instead of following the curves and angles of the streets they would reach to San Francisco.

In its public schools this one city is educating a million children.

If you began walking at a normal pace and walked for eight hours a day, it would take you from the Fourth of July to after New Year to simply cover all the miles of streets without walking on the same street twice.

There are more than four thousand miles of streets within the city limits. Over two thousand, five hundred of these miles are paved.

This one city pays one-third of all the income tax of the whole nation.

From its public libraries more than twenty million books are circulated each year.

In its twenty-two miles of babies are born each year. There are 137,000 of them. Put shoulder to shoulder these infants would form a line that many miles long.

In one of its many fish markets enough pounds of fish are sold each twelve months to distribute a two-pound fish to every one of the 186,940,000 square miles that make up the surface of this earth.

Every square mile from "Greenland's icy mountains to India's coral strand" would get its fish and there would be some left over.

These are a few of the facts about this remarkable "Stone Lizard" which is called New York.

WORDS OF THE WISE MEN

LISTEN, WORLD!

By ELSIE ROBINSON

PHIL OWEN says "women are sensitive." He says it with a sigh and a rueful grin. He says it with different life would be if he could only understand Lucille.

Lucille is Phil's wife. She doesn't look very mysterious. She is a small, restless woman with a vague, pinkish face and a pouting mouth. She was the kind of a girl that people call Babe. She always cried easily, and Phil heard used to call at the sight of the tears falling from those curling lashes, and the quiver of the small, sweet chin.

That was fourteen years ago. Babe has two things to quiver now—and she keeps them quivering. "She's so sensitive," says Phil. "I don't suppose a man can ever understand how sensitive a really nice woman is. I'm always doing something to hurt her feelings or disgust her, and God knows I don't mean to. Why, she's the finest little woman on earth—I'm not half good enough for her. And yet we just don't seem to get on together."

"I've tried to have a good, frank talk about it and one whole's the matter, but somehow, we never seem to get anywhere. I don't stand her. Men can never so different. They have so many reasons for their actions. I don't know what it is, but I don't know anything about it. And I suppose that sensitive life is a hard thing to live. But it does seem to me that you can't get along together."

Double Cross Union.

There you have a splendid example of the average masculine attitude toward woman. Phil is a typical man. He is a good fellow, but he is a little bit of a double crosser. He is not going out into the big world where there's a limited parking space for emotions. They're going to stay in houses where they can spread their feelings all over the place.

So they spread 'em and BE CAID YOU'RE NOT USED TO SEEING FEELINGS ON PA. THESE FEELINGS MUST BE KEPT FROM THE MAS- CULINE VARIETY. They're not.

As for "doping them out," you'd drop them out fast enough if they were men. If a fresh young insurance agent came into your office and pulled the stuff your wife pulls, Phil Owen would say he was "doping them out."

"You wouldn't call him 'different'?" "Different" would be an awfully good word for him. He is a double crosser. He is a man who has an axe and heave him out of the window. His psychology would be identical with that of the lady who says "I'm sensitive."

"I'm sensitive!"—get me, Phil Owen!

GILBERT WHITE AID TO THOUGHTFUL

By Garrett P. Servis

WEARIED by the mere effort to become interested in the typical contents of a trans-Atlantic ship's library, my eye caught sight of the magical words: "Natural History of Selborne—G. White." On the back of a volume whose perfectly worn appearance, as well as its relegation to a low corner shelf, proclaimed its neglect.

When I asked for it I had to show the attendant, where to find it, and as he took the book in his hand he gave it a look of surprised curiosity. It was useless to tell him that it was a book of the most delightful to a contemplative reader.

I have two or three editions of it at home, but this one, caught unexpectedly, halfway between the books, seemed as refreshing as the salt sea breeze.

I kept it for the rest of the voyage, feeling sure that nobody else would want it. I pored over it again with even a greater pleasure than its perusal gave me fifty years ago.

Gilbert White was a lover of nature, whose never declared his love, but only acted it. He did not hate nature, but loved her beauties and graces.

He simply lived gently with her, and he lived her life. He was not at all a literary naturalist; neither was he a strictly scientific one.

The endurance of his unique book is due to the charm of the unpretentious and truthfulness of his author's ways of thinking and writing.

Remarkably Active.

While I was turning over its pages, as we steamed up the channel toward England, I was struck by the little village of Selborne that Gilbert White immortalized. I resumed acquaintance with the "old curlew" who is one of the most interesting actors on White's animated stage.

In the June days the tortoise comes comfortably ashore, walking on its tip-toes and sometimes amping about the shell of the old curlew, so wandering off through the fields, the morning's program is to undertake these random, gravely remarks the author, "seem to be of the amorous kind."

It happened that while I was re-reading the passages about the old curlew I was reminded of a question that I had often called upon to answer concerning the contrasted effect on the temperature of the high sun of summer and the low sun of winter.

Many seem to remain doubtful of the truth of the explanation that ascribes so great a change of temperature to the difference of angle at which the sun's rays strike the earth's surface.

But, Gilbert White's shell-backed old friend unconsciously offered a kind of kindergarten demonstration of the effect of the changing angle of incidence of the sunbeams.

"He spends the more sultry days," says his annalist, "under the umbrells of a large cabbage leaf, or under the waving forests of an asparagus bed. But as he avoids heat in summer, so, in the decline of autumn, he improves the heat of autumnal beams by getting within the reflection of a fruit-wall."

Inclines Shell.

Though he never has read that passage inclining to the horizon, he inclines his shell by tilting it against the wall to collect and admit every feeble ray."

"So, it seems, this chelonian astronomer of the garden, taught by nature, knows how to persuade Summer to linger in the chilling ray of Autumn, and thus put off the dark day when he would have to bury himself for his long Winter's sleep."

Everyone who has read the "Natural History and Antiquities of Selborne" must be glad to know that among the few moments of Gilbert White's time now to be found in Selborne is the shell of the old curlew.

White himself sleeps under a very modest stone in the green burial ground behind the church of which he was the minister. It is not given to many men to be so much at ease in the arms of nature, and to be so comfortable upon succeeding generations of thoughtful readers.
